The 2nd International Conference of the Experiment Lab for Public Management Research (EXPMR) Leading Experimental Research in the Asia-Pacific Region

Date: December 3-4, 2020 (KST)
Online Participation Only

The Experiment Lab for Public Management Research (EXPMR) of the KDI School of Public Policy and Management invites you to our second international conference under the title of “Leading Experimental Research in the Asia-Pacific Region,” December 3-4, 2020. The virtual conference will focus on the topics of behavioral and experimental research in public policy and administration. Honorable professors Wook Sohn (KDI School), Anthony Bertelli (The Pennsylvania State University), James Perry (Indiana University), Richard Walker (City University of Hong Kong), and MJ Moon (Yonsei University) will lead two plenary sessions. Eminent scholars worldwide will lead six panels about behavioral public policy and administration in the comparative contexts and discuss leading experimental research conducted in the Asia-Pacific region.

Online live stream will be conducted on the official Youtube channel of the KDI School of Public Policy and Management: https://www.youtube.com/r/KDIfSchoolPublicPolicyandManagement
